MY ONLY WAY OF UNDERSTANDING TENNIS

BY RAFA NADAL

I started playing tennis as a child in Manacor, on the island of Mallorca. Since then, tennis has been much more than a sport for me. It has been a school of life. After many years competing around the world, I have realized that the true value of success is not only in trophies or titles, but in the discipline, humility, and respect that have accompanied me throughout my career.

One of my greatest purposes is to share these values with the new generations. Through the Rafa Nadal Academy, we work every day to educate young athletes not only to become better players but better people. We teach them to value effort, to understand teamwork even in an individual sport, and to maintain respect for themselves, their opponents, and the game.

It is an international project that brings together students from all over the world, combining education and sport as two pillars of personal development. We believe that high performance is compatible with humanity, that competition can go hand in hand with kindness, and that every training session is also a life lesson.

WELCOME TO THE SECOND EDITION OF THE RAFA NADAL ACADEMY INTERNATIONAL CAMPS

After an outstanding inaugural series of camps in April, we are delighted to return with renewed ambition, greater experience, and an even stronger commitment to delivering an exceptional player experience. The enthusiasm, dedication, and passion shown by every participant during our first edition laid the foundation for what promises to be another unforgettable chapter.

This edition brings us to Bangkok, where we are proud to host the camps across two state-of-the-art venues that provide the ideal environment for players to train, compete, and grow. Every detail has been carefully considered to create a setting that reflects the excellence and professionalism of the Rafa Nadal Academy.

One of our core values is the pursuit of continuous improvement. Guided by the feedback, insights, and experiences gained from our April camps, we have refined and enhanced every aspect of the programme. From the structure of each training day to the overall player journey, this edition has been thoughtfully moulded to maximise development, enjoyment, and personal growth.

At the Rafa Nadal Academy, success is measured by far more than results on the court. We believe in developing complete athletes and inspiring young people to embrace values such as respect, humility, resilience, discipline, teamwork, and a passion for constant improvement. These principles will underpin every session, every challenge, and every opportunity throughout the week.

Whether you are returning to continue your journey with us or joining the Academy family for the very first time, we are honoured to welcome you. We look forward to sharing an inspiring week of world-class coaching, meaningful experiences, and lasting memories.

Welcome to the Rafa Nadal Academy International Camps Thailand 2026.
